

Sou'Wester

is the British National Science Fiction Convention 1994. It will happen on April 1st-4th 1994, with the programme starting at noon or thereabouts on Good Friday and going on until late on Easter Monday evening.

is at the Britannia Adelphi Hotel in Liverpool, a hotel with previous experience of Eastercons: we know they're good.

will offer all the items we enjoy at Eastercons: panels and games, serious matters, and silly events, films and costume events, the rest...

is going to be a fine party and an intellectually challenging feast of reason all at the same time: why don't you come and join in?

Membership rates until November 30th 1993 are still only £25 full, £12.50 supporting & child, £1 baby & beast but don't delay, these rates will go up on December 1st 1993 to £27 full, £13.50 supporting & child, £2 baby & beast. Hurry, hurry, fill in the form now and send it with your money (cheques payable to "Sou'Wester", please) to us at

SOU'WESTER, 3 WEST SHRUBBERY, REDLAND, BRISTOL BS6 6SZ

DEAD BY DAWN

Edinburgh Filmhouse
Midnight 22/23rd January 1994

Films, guests, food and merchandise are all on offer this year and the line-up is looking really good despite the fact that the most requested classic for screening was "Bambi". Somebody, somewhere is missing the point! Needless to say I have completely ignored this and programmed "The Haunting" and "Bad Taste" instead. These will be accompanied by Abel Ferrara's remake of "Invasion Of The Bodysnatchers" and Mariano Bains's "Dark Waters". Mariano will be on stage to introduce his film. The fifth film has still to be confirmed although it is likely to be either the British production "Bedlam", or Brian Yuzna's "Return Of The Living Dead 3". Call me at the number below for a progress report anytime!

We've got our act in gear and actually printed up T-shirts this year and you can order these in advance with your ticket. Tickets have gone up in price this year but will stay at this level for evermore (Honest). Dealers Room is open again this year, and hopefully so will the kitchen be at around 6am for bacon rolls, egg rolls or even bacon and egg rolls.

Guests in January will include "Samhain" editor John Gullidge and director Mariano Bains. There will be more, so stay in touch for updates.
